DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES

AND MEASURES. A strict construction of the Constitution, and no assumption of doubtful powers.

A Diplomacy asking for nothing but what is clearly right and submitting to nothing wrong. No connexion between the government and banks. An ad valorem revenue tariff.

No public debt, either by the General Government or by the States, except for objects of urgent necessity.

No assumption by the General Government of the debts of the States, either directly or indirectly, by a distribution of the proceeds of the public lands. No extensive system of Internal Improvement by the General Government or by the States. A constitutional barrier against improvident State loans.

The honest payment of our debts and the sacred preservation of the public faith. A gra lual return from a paper credit system. No grants of exclusive charters and privileges by special legislation to banks. No swindling corporations.

No connexion between Church and State. A preference for Democrats over Whigs for every office. Acquiescence in the rule of the majority in all cases of party discipline. No prescription for honest opinions. Fostering aid to public education.

THE Editors of the Congressional Globe propose a new pulli-cation. To deserve the patronage which Congress has ac-corded to their reports of its debates, in receiving and making the Globe the official register, they ratend to add promptitude to whatever merit has hitherto recommended the work. They will publish a Daily Globe, to record the proceedings and debates as they occur; and a Congressional Gone periodically, as hermofore, embodying the reports of Congress separate from the miscellane-ous matter which will accompany them in the daily print. To fill the sheet of the daily newspaper, it is designed to gather the news from all quarters, and complete the contents by drawing om every source that may be of most interest among literary ovelties, and of greatest utility in scientific and practical works on agriculture. For material, the leading journals and periodicals of France and Great Britain, treating of such su jests, will be consulted, and, it is hoped, advantageously used. Original es-says, especially on topics connected with agriculture, will be ob-

The Globe, as a newspaper, and as a vehicle of information and masement in other respects, will be under the charge of Francis sarge d'Atlairs to Peru. From his pen mainly the Globe will deive the selections and translations from the French journals and hich will be found among its chief attractions. The Globe will be published daily during the session of Con-

ticles of the daily print, with a synopsis of the Congressional proof the Heads of the Executive Departments.

Nothing of a political party aspect will appear in the Globe save that which will be found in the Congressional reports. A paper assuming to be an impartial vehicle for all sides, cannot maintain its character if the editorial columns reflect a party hue. The Editors of the Globe have borne their share in the party conflicts of the press. They claim an honorable discharge from the voca-
